

Become a Shared Living Provider (Metro Vancouver)

posAbilities Association of British Columbia is a not for profit organization that supports people with developmental disabilities. We are seeking interested and skilled individuals who looking for an exciting and meaningful opportunity to positively impact someone's quality of life? Are you knowledgeable and able to provide a long-term supportive home?

A Shared Living contractor's role is to:

- Provide a safe, warm, inclusive and healthy environment
- Be a positive role model, offer supports that are respectful and sensitive and provide structure and stability
- Have experience and / or training in supporting persons with developmental disabilities, FASD, Autism, mental health issues, personal care, medical support needs

posAbilities encourages all prospective Shared Living Providers to give thoughtful consideration to, and seek information about, the roles and responsibilities associated with becoming a Shared Living Provider with our organization.

Please submit your cover letter and résumé by email at careers@posAbilities.ca (including a personal email address). Please include a short description of yourself and include your education and / or experience working with individuals with developmental disabilities. Please note: we thank all applicants for their interest, but only those meeting our criteria will be contacted.

Location: Metro Vancouver

Compensation: as per CLBC contract 2024